WELCOME FROM THE PRESIDENT

Dear Friends:

It is with a profound sense of pride and gratitude that I write to you on this occasion of the culmination of your years of effort and achievement at the University of Connecticut.

In the 141 years since the founding of our University, there have been many challenges for our community, but few classes can say they have experienced challenges to the extent and intensity faced by you and your peers.

Challenges, though, are merely opportunities for achievement, and your achievements stand among the most impressive of any graduates in our long and proud history. Now, you face the next leg of your journey not only prepared but encouraged by the sure knowledge that you can overcome any obstacle that stands between you and fulfillment.

You are members of a special class, your ranks filled with new scholars of many disciplines and fields, with leaders on issues of urgent public concern, and with innovators who have already embarked on reshaping our world in ways we can scarcely imagine.

I know you will cherish many memories from your time at UConn. Among them, no doubt, will be moments that forged lifelong bonds of friendship; instances of delighted discovery in the classroom or the laboratory; and the feeling of communal empowerment that comes from joining together with thousands of your peers to withstand and overcome the unprecedented challenges of the past few years.

These memories will be a prized possession no matter where your journey leads next. But regardless of your destination, and regardless of how you ultimately reach it, I hope you will always keep in mind one irreducible truth to guide you through the rest of your life as graduates of the University of Connecticut: you are students today, but Huskies forever.

During your study at UConn, our staff and faculty invested in you, offering support, encouragement, and the wisdom that comes with experience. Now it's your turn to carry the torch they passed to you by investing in the lives of those around you and giving back by mentoring others. When you enter the world of work, remember the time and care you received at UConn. Finishing your program does not mean you leave our family at UConn. Just the opposite! You are joining our more than 270,000 alumni. Stay connected, be successful, and know that the greatest joy in life is giving back.

I wish you the very best in all of your endeavors. Again, congratulations! Huskies FOREVER!

Cheers,

COMMENCEMENT NOTES

Commencement Day at the University of Connecticut is a time of ceremony and pageantry, embracing traditions dating back to medieval times.

The University of Connecticut was founded as the Storrs Agricultural School in 1881 when the General Assembly accepted a gift of money and land from Charles and Augustus Storrs, natives of Mansfield. In 1893 when it became a land-grant college and officially opened to women, the name was changed to Storrs Agricultural College. As the mission of the institution grew, its name was changed in 1899 to Connecticut Agricultural College, and in 1933 to the Connecticut State College. At first a small but vigorous college with limited undergraduate offerings in agriculture, home economics and mechanical arts, with the development of a university program it became The University of Connecticut in 1939. The Graduate program began in 1935, and in 1949 the University awarded its first doctoral degrees. The regional campuses were established in 1946 to accommodate the influx of veteran students. Today, the University is made up of fourteen different schools and colleges. Through its administrative Divisions, Institutes, and Centers, the University is a Land Grant and Sea Grant College and a Space Grant Consortium Institution, privileged to serve the citizens of the State of Connecticut, and beyond.

Enormous expansion has taken place over the years together with increased enrollment. Today, the University has an enrollment of over 32,146 students. At Storrs, there are over 23,837 undergraduates and more than 8,309 graduate students, representing some 113 nations.

This May, the University will award over 9,170 degrees. Of these, approximately 6,125 will be Bachelor's degrees, 1,930 Master's degrees, 156 Juris Doctor degrees, 51 Master of Laws degrees, 83 Doctor of Pharmacy degrees, 49 Doctor of Dental Medicine degrees, 103 Doctor of Medicine degrees, 5 Doctor of Musical Arts degrees, 10 Doctor of Audiology, 5 Doctor of Education degrees, 20 Doctor of Nursing Practice degrees, 29 Doctor of Physical Therapy degrees, and 514 Doctor of Philosophy degrees. Also to be awarded are 62 diplomas in Professional Education and 28 Associate's degrees in the two-year Ratcliffe Hicks School of Agriculture.

The Commencement Ceremony, because of the large number of graduates, is divided into separate exercises, by college or school. The Schools of Dental Medicine and Medicine, located in Farmington, and the Schools of Law and Social Work, both located in Hartford, hold their own exercises. The Commencement procession in each of the exercises at Gampel Pavilion in Storrs is heralded by the ceremonial trumpets, acquired especially for the University's commencement.

The Academic Procession is led by the Bearer of the Mace, followed by the faculty. The University Marshal, identified by her Baton, follows the President, together with the speaker, the Board of Trustees, vice-presidents, deans, and other University officials. The Mace is presented at the center of the stage while members of the platform party enter and take their places. Once the Mace is placed on the stand, it signals the beginning of the ceremony.

The Academic Gowns, Hoods and Regalia represent more than elegance or colorful attire. Academic caps and gowns continue a tradition which reaches far back into the early days of the oldest universities of the Middle Ages. The early European universities were founded by the church; the students, being clerics, were obliged to wear prescribed gowns and caps at all times. Caps and gowns were once common forms of clothing and were retained by the clergy when the laity adopted more modern dress. Hoods are lined with the official color of the college or university which conferred the degree. The velvet edging of the hood varies in length for bachelors, masters, and doctoral degrees. The color represents the appropriate degree. The tassel for the Bachelor's and Master's degree may be of color distinctive to the degree, and the tassel for the doctoral degree may be made of gold thread. The gown and hood of the University Marshal were made specifically for University ceremonies in the official colors of national flag blue and white. The Processional Marshals wear blue velvet "beefeater" berets.

The Mace is presented at all academic ceremonies. In medieval times maces were weapons of warfare, but today a mace is "a staff borne by, or carried before, a magistrate or other dignitary as an ensign of his authority." It is the emblem and symbol of the President's authority to administer the University. This mace was first used at the Inauguration of President Homer D. Babbidge, Jr. on October 20, 1962. It was designed by Nathan Knobler, former head of the Department of Art. The University's early seal, executed in beautiful wood carving, appears on both faces. A penny dated 1881 is affixed to it, to commemorate the date of the University's founding.

The Baton, carried by the University Marshal, was specifically designed for ceremonial activities at The University of Connecticut and was first used at the Commencement in 1968. The Office of Marshal can also be traced back to the medieval period, and the Baton is a symbol of the Marshal's authority. This Baton has silver mountings and is surmounted by a representation of the University's former seal in enamel, which itself incorporates the coat of arms of the State of Connecticut. The University Marshal, carrying the Baton, follows the Mace Bearer as she leads the academic procession into and out of the place of ceremony.

The Silver Collar/Medallion, worn by Radenka Maric, Interim President, was first used in 1964, at the time of the University's Silver Anniversary. Each link on the collar represents one of the University's Schools or Colleges and consists of a cloisonné circle engraved with an appropriate design for the particular school and enameled with its traditional school or college colors. Hanging from the chain is a large silver medallion containing the University's early seal.

The Awarding of Degrees at the University of Connecticut is accomplished by a threefold process. First, the candidates for degrees of each respective school or college are presented by the University Marshal. The candidates proceed to the front, receive their diploma covers, are congratulated by their administrative officers, and return to their seats. Second, the School or College Marshal then officially presents the candidates to the Dean who acknowledges the candidates and declares the appropriate degree. Third, when all candidates have been duly presented, the President of the University (or the highest ranking official of the University in attendance) formally confers the appropriate degree. This is accomplished verbally at the time that he speaks the words:

"By virtue of the authority vested in me by the Trustees of The University of Connecticut, and in accordance with the procedures and regulations of the University, I confer upon you the Associate's Degree, appropriate Bachelor's Degree, Master's Degree, Sixth Year Diploma, or degree of Doctor for which you have been presented at this One Hundred and Forty Third Commencement of The University."

The Recessional of the officials and faculty is once again led by the Mace Bearer and University Marshal. The graduates, along with the audience, are requested to remain seated until the recessional is concluded.

ACADEMIC HONORS

University Scholar

The University Scholar designation is the highest scholastic honor at the University. The individualized undergraduate programs of these students, which in some cases include work toward a graduate degree, are supervised by faculty committees. Up to thirty students are selected as University Scholars in the junior year. Candidates for the University Scholar designation wear a golden medal on a gold and blue ribbon at the Commencement exercises.

Honors Scholar and University Honors Laureate

Honors Scholars and University Honors Laureates are academically talented and highly motivated students who complete intensive two- to four-year programs. As Honors Scholars these students participate in Honors courses of unusual depth in the major field and complete a departmentally-approved Honors thesis/Honors capstone project. Honors Scholars show engagement in their major field through projects that support their professional development. Honors Scholars who complete additional academic and co-curricular requirements also earn the University Honors Laureate designation. This award recognizes breadth in Honors work, as well as engagement and involvement in a variety of communities. Candidates for the Honors Scholar and University Honors Laureate designations wear a white enamel and silver medal incorporating both awards on a blue and white ribbon at the Commencement exercises.

Honors Scholar

Honors Scholars are academically talented and highly motivated students who complete intensive two- to four-year programs, including Honors courses of unusual depth in the major field. Honors Scholars must demonstrate engagement in their major field and complete a departmentally-approved Honors thesis/Honors capstone project. Candidates for the Honors Scholar designation wear a silver medal on a blue and white ribbon at the Commencement exercises.

*Please Note: An asterisk (*) after a graduate's name indicates that they are a candidate for dual degrees.*

Latin Honors

In order to meet Commencement program printing deadlines, the Undergraduate candidates listed in the Commencement program include candidates with expected graduation dates of August 2021 through August 2022.

The University will base candidates' Latin honors (cum laude, magna cum laude, and summa cum laude), as indicated in the Commencement program, on their cumulative grade point averages (GPA) as calculated at the time of printing. Candidates' diplomas and official transcripts will reflect the actual Latin honor earned, if any, based on their complete academic record (through and including their final semester).

LAU = Cum Laude

MAG = Magna Cum Laude

SUM = Summa Cum Laude

Note: Because final semester grades are processed after Commencement activities, identification of Latin Honors in the University's Commencement Program are tentative and unofficial, pending the submission and calculation of all final grades for the graduate's final semester. There is no guarantee that the listed students will actually receive the honors once final grades are recorded.

Sheila Dinotshe Tlou, Ph.D., RN

Sheila Dinotshe Tlou is the co-chair of Nursing Now, a global campaign of the International Council of Nurses and the World Health Organization to raise the profile and status of nursing worldwide. After receiving her Ph.D. in nursing from the University of Illinois at Chicago in 1990, Tlou became professor, head of the University of Botswana School of Nursing and director of the WHO Collaborating Centre in Primary Health Care. In 2004, she was specially elected as a member of Parliament of the Republic of Botswana and was appointed a member of cabinet as the first health professional and nurse Minister of Health. During her four-year term, Tlou led a comprehensive prevention, treatment, care, and support program for HIV and AIDS. She rolled out antiretroviral and prevention-of-mother-to-child-transmission medications to near universal (90%) uptake. As a result of her efforts, transmission of HIV from mother to child decreased from 29% to 8%, and maternal mortality due to AIDS decreased from 30% to 10%. Based on these dramatic results, her program became the international standard for the treatment of HIV/AIDS among women.

In addition to these policy endeavors, Tlou's scholarly work focused on enabling women, particularly married women in a patriarchal society, to negotiate with their partners for safer sex and on reducing the stigma of AIDS and helping people living with HIV live positively. In 2010, she joined UNAIDS as Regional Director for Eastern and Southern Africa. She provided leadership and political advocacy for quality sustainable AIDS response in 21 African countries, from Eritrea to South Africa, including the Indian Ocean islands of Madagascar, Mauritius, Seychelles, and Comoros. She was instrumental in the formation of advocacy bodies such as the Pan-African Positive Women's Coalition (PAPWC) and the High-Level Task Force on Women, Girls, Gender Equality and HIV in Africa; and she initiated and chaired a High-Level Task Force on Comprehensive Sexuality Education and Services for Young People. She continues her efforts in HIV prevention, treatment, and support as co-chair of the United Nations Global HIV Prevention Coalition; co-chair of Nursing Now Global Campaign; the United Nations Eminent Person for Women, Girls, and HIV/AIDS in Southern Africa; and the International Council of Nurses Goodwill Ambassador for Girl Child Education.

Her honors include the Botswana Presidential Order of Honor, the Florence Nightingale Award from the International Red Cross Society, the Trailblazer Woman Leading Change Award from the World YWCA, the Leadership in Health Award from the Global Business Council (Health), the Lifetime Achievement in Global Health award from Sigma Theta Tau International Honor Society for Nursing, the President's Award from the United States' National League for Nursing, the Princess Srinagarindra Award from Thailand, the Christianne Reimann Award from the International Council of Nurses, and the Princess Muna Al Hussein award from the American Nurses Credentialing Center. She has been elected a foreign member of the United States National Academy of Medicine and of the American Academy of Nursing, which also honored her with the President's Award. In 2014, alongside then-First Lady Michelle Obama, she was awarded a Doctor of Humane Letters, honoris causa, from Dillard University, where she earned a B.S.N. in 1974. She also holds graduate degrees from the Catholic University of America and Columbia University.

Vernette Townsend '85 MS, RN

Vernette Townsend is vice president of patient care services and chief nursing officer at Trinity Health of New England: St. Francis Hospital and Medical Center. Prior to this she was at Baystate Medical Center in Springfield, Massachusetts, from 2010 to 2018, where she served in a variety of roles including nurse manager of the neurosurgical unit; assistant director of medicine, surgery, neuroscience and the transplant Program; director of medical nursing and transplant program, and director of medical-surgical nursing, central resource team, clinical nurse supervisors, and transplant program. From 1996 to 2010, Vernette held a variety of leadership positions at Saint Francis Hospital in Hartford, Connecticut, as well as at Mount Sinai Hospital (1987-1996). Vernette served as a Captain in the United States Army Nurse Corps as staff nurse in the medical ICU from 1985 to 1993.

She received her B.S. in nursing from UConn and her Master of Science in Nursing from the University of St. Joseph, West Hartford. She is currently enrolled at UConn taking classes toward her Doctor of Nursing Practice degree. Active in community service and professional organizations, Vernette is a member of Sigma Theta Tau International and received the Nightingale Award of Nursing Excellence in 2005. A visionary and authentic leader who drives strategic and operational excellence in hospital and specialty care settings, Vernette is most deserving of the Carolyn Ladd Widmer Outstanding Alumni Award for Leadership in Nursing. She is truly a leader in our field — a practicing professional, an administrator, a mentor, and an active and civic-minded member of the nursing community.

Jody Olsen, Ph.D., MSW

Dr. Josephine (Jody) Olsen, PhD, served as the 20th Director of the Peace Corps between March 2018 – January 2021. With the beginning of the global COVID-19 pandemic, Dr. Olsen made the unprecedented decision to evacuate all 7,000 Peace Corps Volunteers from 61 countries safely back to the United States. Dr. Olsen also championed global women's economic empowerment, opened Peace Corps in a new country, Viet Nam, and re-opened three countries in which Peace Corps had previously served.

Dr. Olsen began her career as a Peace Corps Volunteer, serving as an education Volunteer in Tunisia from 1966-1968. She has also served the agency in five other senior level positions, including Deputy Director. She is currently completing a semester as Resident Fellow at the IOP Harvard Kennedy School.

Prior to returning to the Peace Corps in 2018, Dr. Olsen was Visiting Professor at the University of Maryland-

Baltimore School of Social Work and Director of the University's Center for Global Education for eight years where she developed and directed inter-professional global health projects for health graduate students, and taught international social work, global social policy, and global health.

Dr. Olsen received a BS from the University of Utah, a Master's in Social Work from the University of Maryland, Baltimore, and a PhD in Human Development from the University of Maryland, College Park. Among her awards, she has received the University of Maryland President's Award, the University of Utah's alumni of the year award, and honorary doctorates from Michigan Technological University and the Rochester Institute of Technology.

This is Dr. Olsen's fourth visit to the UConn school of social work where she honors its rich history of international social work leadership.

Judy Lopez '20

Judy Lopez graduated from the University of Connecticut Bachelor of General Studies (BGS) Program in 2020. As a student, Mrs. Lopez split time between the Hartford and Storrs campuses completing minors in human development and family sciences and Latino studies. She also holds an Associate of Science degree in business administration from Manchester Community College. After working in the insurance and financial sectors for many years and supporting her three children in their educational pursuits, Judy decided to finish her degree. She began taking courses at the University of Connecticut in 2015, nearly eight years after completing her associate degree.

While pursuing her degree, Judy began working at UConn, in the Office of the Vice President and Chief Information Officer, drawing on her strong analytical, organizational, and interpersonal skills. In 2019, Judy moved to the University's Women's Center. This shift has afforded Judy the opportunity to have more direct impacts on our students at the University. In her roles, she provides programming, supervises students, and teaches a first-year seminars — further enriching the experiences of our students. She is currently pursuing a Master of Public Administration UConn, continuing to embrace the mindset of a lifelong learner.

Jaime S. Foster, Ph.D.

Jaime S. Foster Ph.D. is serving her first term as State Representative in the Connecticut General Assembly, proudly serving the 57th District of Ellington and East Windsor. She currently serves on the Public Health, Energy and Technology, and Children's committees.

Prior to being elected to serve in the General Assembly, Dr. Foster served on the Ellington Human Services Commission and Board of Education, and the state's Milk Promotion Board. She will continue to serve on the Ellington Farmers Market Board of Directors.

Dr. Foster is an alumnus of UConn's College of Agriculture, Health and Natural Resources; she received her BS in dietetics and subsequently completed internship and testing requirements to be a Registered Dietitian. She has also obtained her MS and doctorate in nutritional sciences. Professionally, Dr. Foster works as a research scientist for the Yale-Griffin Prevention Research Center.

Dr. Foster is committed to advocating for meaningful change that will improve the lives of those in the community. Her background in health and nutrition policy will be vital as the legislature navigates the COVID-19 pandemic and prepares for future public health crises. She is committed to supporting local agriculture and rebuilding our economy.

Theresia Bauer

Theresia Bauer has served as Minister of Science, Research, and Arts for the German State of Baden-Württemberg since 2011. Theresia Bauer graduated from Heidelberg University in 1993 with a master's degree in political science, economics, and German studies and has been a member of the Baden-Württemberg State Parliament since 2001.

As a member of the German Green Party, Minister Bauer has put a particular focus on education financing, cutting-edge health, and artificial intelligence research, along with innovative climate protection initiatives in higher education. This includes pioneering work with “living labs” to encourage more exchange between researchers and the public. She has also put a focus on protecting the freedom of science and the arts, and thus initiated the first award for “courageous science” to encourage young researchers in her state.

During her time as Minister, Bauer has also pushed for greater international scientific cooperation and exchange, including expanded outreach to countries in the Americas and Africa. Under her leadership, Baden-Württemberg has been at the forefront in confronting Germany's colonial past. In 2019, Bauer guided the return of stolen cultural artifacts to Namibia and is currently part of the German drive to return the Benin Bronzes to Nigeria. She has also encouraged Baden-Württemberg to play a leading role in helping resettle Yazidi refugees from Iraqi Kurdistan while pushing initiatives to help areas affected by conflict in Iraq. Due to these efforts, she accompanied 2018 Nobel Peace Prize Winner Nadia Murad during her trip to speak to the United Nations Security Council on human trafficking in 2015.

Deidre S. Gifford, MD, MPH

Dr. Deidre S. Gifford serves the State of Connecticut as commissioner of the Department of Social Services and senior advisor to the governor for health and human services. Dr. Gifford was appointed by Governor Ned Lamont to lead the Department of Social Services in June 2019, after executive service with the federal Center for Medicare and Medicaid Services, and experience in medical practice, the non-profit sector and government service in Rhode Island.

In May 2020, as the COVID-19 pandemic intensified, Governor Lamont appointed Commissioner Gifford to also head the Department of Public Health, as Acting Commissioner. She served as a leading member of the governor's team in planning and implementing the state's comprehensive response to the public health emergency until September of 2021.

In July 2021, Governor Lamont appointed Commissioner Gifford to the additional duty of serving as senior advisor to the governor for health and human services. In this role, she is tasked with coordinating a multi-agency approach among the state's nine health and human services agencies to improving health and health care in Connecticut. The senior advisor is responsible for convening and leading coordination efforts between these agencies, working closely with the Office of Policy and Management, as well as providing the governor with policy input and recommendations that address issues of health and health care costs, quality, and disparities.

Prior to beginning service in Connecticut, Commissioner Gifford was deputy director for the Center for Medicaid and CHIP (Children's Health Insurance Program) Services at the Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services (CMS) from 2016 to 2019. Before joining CMS, she served as the director of state policy and programs at the National Association of Medicaid Directors, where she led that organization's efforts with states to support and advance value-based purchasing in Medicaid.

From 2012 to 2015, Commissioner Gifford served as Medicaid director in the Rhode Island Executive Office of Health and Human Services, having previously served as the agency's medical director. During her tenure, she advanced changes in the payment and delivery system to improve the quality of care and enhance the value of Medicaid services, including the development of numerous initiatives in care coordination, information technology, and provider payment innovations.

A graduate in public health of the University of California at Los Angeles, Commissioner Gifford received her medical degree from Cornell University Medical College in New York. She specialized in obstetrics and gynecology and went on to receive a master of public health degree in epidemiology from UCLA.

The mission of the Department of Social Services is "to have a positive impact on the families and communities of Connecticut." The department supports the basic needs of about 1 million Connecticut children, families, and individuals, including older adults and persons with disabilities. With its partners, the agency provides health care coverage, food and nutrition assistance, financial assistance, child support services, energy aid, independent living services, social work services, protective services for the elderly, home-heating aid, and additional vital assistance to people from across the state.

Radenka Maric, Ph.D.

Radenka Maric, Ph.D., vice president for research, innovation and entrepreneurship (VPRIE), is UConn's interim president. As interim president, she is responsible for Connecticut's $1.5 billion public flagship university with five campuses, more than 30,000 students, and an extensive network of research and service endeavors.

Dr. Maric also holds the rank of Board of Trustees Distinguished Professor and Chair Professor in Sustainable Energy in UConn's departments of chemical and biomolecular engineering and materials science and engineering. She formerly served as executive director of the UConn Technology Park and Innovation Partnership Building from 2015 to 2017.

As VPRIE, Dr. Maric led UConn's diverse research enterprise, with more than 300 staff members reporting to her at UConn and UConn Health. Under her leadership, new research awards to UConn and UConn Health doubled, growing from $184 million in FY 2017 to $376 million in FY 2020.

Dr. Maric has spearheaded innovative seed-funding initiatives to support faculty early-stage research and creative work across the university. She also has developed new programs to promote interdisciplinary, multi-campus, multi-stakeholder collaborations, including Innovation Grant in Science, Technology, Engineering, Arts, and Math (STEAM) and Scholarship and Collaboration in Humanities and Arts Research Program Awards (SCHARP).

Dr. Maric's work has included overseeing UConn's technology commercialization initiatives, including licensing, patenting, and entrepreneurial ventures.

Dr. Maric holds the rank of Fellow of the American Academy of Arts and Sciences (2019), the National Academy of Inventors (2019), and the International Association of Advanced Materials (2020), and is an elected member of the Connecticut Academy of Science and Engineering.

Her many recognitions include receiving a Fulbright Chair Professor appointment at the Politecnico di Milano, Italy (2016-2017), a fellowship from the Japan Organization for the Promotion of Science (2012), the Leadership Award from the National Research Council of Canada (2009), and the Hartford Business Journal's Women in Business Award (2020). Governor Ned Lamont appointed her to serve on the Board of Directors of Connecticut Innovations in 2020, and she is a member of the Oracle Research Strategy Council.

Dr. Maric is a world leader in technologies for clean energy and sustainability. She has significantly advanced understanding of materials and catalysts and has developed innovative manufacturing processes involved in fuel cell technologies, storage materials, and electrochemical sensors for health applications, leading to higher-performance, commercially viable clean energy systems.

Her scholarly work has resulted in more than 300 articles in refereed journals and conference proceedings, 21 book chapters and invited review articles in major journals, one book published, and two books under preparation. She also has six issued patents and 11 published patent disclosures. She serves on numerous review panels for the Department of Energy, the European Commission, and Horizon 2020 and serves as a board member of the International Academy of Electrochemical Energy Science.

William G. Nelson, MD, Ph.D.

Dr. Nelson is the Marion I. Knott Professor of Oncology and Director of the Sidney Kimmel Comprehensive Cancer Center at Johns Hopkins, holding professorships in oncology, medicine, pharmacology, pathology, radiation oncology, urology, and environmental health sciences — the most ever at Johns Hopkins. His studies of prostate cancer have yielded new insights into the causes of the disease and new products for its detection.

Dr. Nelson has become a highly sought-after lay communicator for cancer medicine and cancer research, whether on network television, by way of a quarterly column in Cancer Today, in testimony to federal and state legislative bodies, or on radio and social media outlets. He serves on the boards of the V Foundation and of the Break Through Cancer foundation, as a scientific co-chair for Stand Up 2 Cancer, and as executive editor of Cancer Today.

GRADUATE SCHOOL, SCHOOL OF DENTAL MEDICINE, AND SCHOOL OF MEDICINE
BOARD OF DIRECTORS FACULTY RECOGNITION AWARD RECIPIENT

Frank C. Nichols, DDS, Ph.D.

The 2022 recipient of the UConn Health Board of Directors Faculty Recognition Award is Frank C. Nichols, DDS, Ph.D.

A member of the UConn School of Dental Medicine faculty since 1984, Dr. Nichols is Professor of Periodontology. Dr. Nichols received his dental degree from the Ohio State University and completed his MS and Ph.D. studies in biophysics at the University of Rochester. Dr. Nichols subsequently completed his specialty training in Periodontics at UConn, along with the Master of Dental Science degree, in 1984. Dr. Nichols joined the faculty immediately following the completion of his residency program.

A consummate educator, Dr. Nichols' primary academic responsibilities throughout his career have been directed to periodontology. He has served as both the director of the postdoctoral residency program in periodontology and the predoctoral education director, and has made significant contributions to the biomedical sciences curriculum, to several residency and graduate programs outside of his primary specialty, as well as to the dental hygiene programs throughout the state of Connecticut. His contributions to the teaching program have been recognized with the Kaiser Permanente Teaching Award and other honors.

Dr. Nichols is a nationally and internally recognized expert scientist in lipidomics and the role of complex bacterial lipids in inflammatory diseases that span outside of the oral cavity. His groundbreaking research has led to new understandings of the relationships between oral diseases and systemic disease, including cardiovascular diseases. A fellow of the American Association for the Advancement of Science, Dr. Nichols has an extensive history of successful funding for his research program and is the author of over 60 peer-reviewed publications and has numerous presentations to local, state, national, and international organizations. More than 50 students, residents and trainees have been mentored in their research or graduate studies by Dr. Nichols.

"We are exceptionally appreciative of Dr. Nichols' longstanding service to the UConn School of Dental Medicine. He is the epitome of what any school should desire of a faculty member and his record of excellence in teaching, scholarship and discovery, service and patient care is a model for many to emulate," said Dr. Steven Lepowsky, dean of the UConn School of Dental Medicine. "He is recognized as a leader in his field and is certainly most deserving of this honor from the UConn Health Board of Directors."

"This unexpected recognition reaffirms my commitment to students, staff, colleagues, patients, and the University at large. I am truly humbled and immensely grateful for this honor," says Nichols.

David Knecht

Edward C. Marth Mentorship Award

This year's recipient of the Marth Award is Professor David Knecht from the Department of Molecular and Cell Biology (MCB). Professor Knecht joined the MCB faculty in 1987 and has been conducting research with graduate students here at UConn for the past 35 years. It is clear from the testimonials received that he has had a very significant impact on both the professional and personal lives of the students who have worked under his wing, many of whom continue to seek his advice well beyond graduation. His students and colleagues speak to how generous he is with his time and energy and to his unwavering commitment to his students and to training the next generation of researchers. Known as a tough mentor, Professor Knecht sets high standards and expectations for both himself and his students. He encourages students to develop a "gritty mindset" that he believes is a key to advancing scientific knowledge. Professor Knecht's receipt of the Marth Award is a fitting recognition of his dedication over the past three decades to both his own students as well as to graduate education more generally.

Professor Knecht is also a very accomplished researcher. His research expertise is in microscopic cellular imaging and computational assessments of cellular movement. He has nearly 100 scholarly publications and in 2019 received the CLAS Research Excellence Award in Life and Behavioral Sciences.

Monique Alexandria Domingo

Student Speaker

Monique Domingo's advisor describes her as "the full package — she has multiple published articles, works under review, and a full pipeline of research." Because of her accomplishments and qualifications, Monique has accepted a tenure track position as an assistant professor of management at Louisiana State University to begin the fall of 2022.

Monique is an Organizational Behavior Scholar and works primarily in the areas of leadership and teams. Her dissertation, "Leading in a Crisis: What You Say, Not Just What You Do, Matters," is on how leaders' words and actions impact their collective followers and have real-world consequences. As the COVID-19 crisis dawned, she saw that different state governors' behaviors appeared to have important influences on their constituents' reactions and behaviors, and ultimately have serious health consequences. She designed a mixed-method longitudinal study using a variety of non-method bound variables and has collected a vast trove of data. The first phase of her research uses guided exploratory techniques to derive crisis leadership dimensions from governors' speeches and executive orders, and in the second phase she models the impact of those leadership variables on collective followers' reactions, behaviors, and health consequences. This work encapsulates all of the best practices concerning conceptualization, measurement, and analysis, and it will have significant real-world implications.

The official seal of the University of Connecticut depicts the ancient and mighty oak. Beautiful and sacred, the venerable oak symbolizes wisdom, longevity, and hospitality. To Aristotle, the oak represented human potential.

The oak holds a special place in Connecticut's history. In a time long before statehood, the Connecticut colony's self-governing status was guaranteed by a charter issued by King Charles II of England. When, in 1687, his successor King James II attempted to reinstate the monarchy's authority, the Crown's emissary's efforts were foiled as the Royal Charter was secretly spirited to a temporary hiding place — a majestic oak in Hartford, forever after known as the Charter Oak. The oak became a symbol of freedom worldwide.

The oak has unique meaning for the University as well. In 1884, the commencement exercises of the second graduating class of the Storrs Agricultural School were held in an oak grove on the Storrs campus. This grove, long a favorite gathering place for a variety of open-air meetings, served as the spiritual home to the growing community of scholars.

The University of Connecticut's graphic interpretation of the oak is a stylized synthesis of two acorns and three oak leaves, representing maturation, intellect, and moral strength. The seal is the symbol of a large and diverse institution; it is used by all of the University's schools, colleges, regional campuses, professional schools, and UConn Health. It communicates the broader mission of the University as a center for the pursuit, the creation, and the sharing of knowledge. The University of Connecticut, like the mighty oak, is rooted in a proud past and reaches toward a limitless future.
